

WILSON APPEALS TO COUNTRY'S BUSINESS

Executive Asks Business to Give Aid as Freely as Those Who Go to Battle

MUST BE BUT ONE PRICE

President Warns That No Attempt To Extort Unusual Profits Will Be Tolerated

CONDEMNS SHIP OWNERS

WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Wilson appealed to the country's business interests tonight to put aside every selfish consideration and to give their aid to the nation as freely as those who go out to offer their lives on the battle field.

Will Pay Just Prices.

In a statement addressed to the coal operators and manufacturers he gave assurances that just prices will be paid by the government and the public during the war, but warned that no attempt to extort unusual profits will be tolerated.

"Your patriotism," the president's appeal said, "is of the same self-denying stuff as the patriotism of the men dead and maimed on the fields of France or it is no patriotism at all. Let us never speak then, of profits and patriotism in the same sentence. I shall expect every man who is not a slacker to be at my side through this great enterprise. In it no man can win honor who thinks of himself."

Must Be But One Price.

The president declared there must be but one price. He expressed confidence that business generally would be found loyal to the last degree and that the problem of war time prices, which he declared would mean "victory or defeat," will be solved rightly through patriotic co-operation.

In unmeasured terms, however, President Wilson condemned the ship owners of the country for maintaining a schedule of ocean freight rates which has placed almost insuperable obstacles in the path of the government.

"The fact is," he asserted, "that those who have fixed war freight rates have taken the most effective means in their power to defeat the armies engaged against Germany." Coal production and other industries for whose production the government has negotiated price agreements are not taken up in detail by the president, his appeal dealing only with the general principles involved in the determination of war prices. The appeal reads:

The President's Appeal.

"My fellow countrymen: The government is about to attempt to determine the prices at which it will ask you henceforth to furnish various supplies which are necessary for the prosecution of the war, and various materials which will be needed in the industries by which the war must be sustained. We shall, of course, try to determine them justly and to the best advantage of the nation as a whole; but just is easier to speak of than to arrive at and there are some considerations which I hope we shall keep steadily in mind while this particular problem of justice is being worked out. Therefore I take the liberty of stating very candidly my own view of the situation and of the principles which should guard both the government and the mine owners and manufacturers of the country in this difficult matter.

"A just price must of course, be paid for everything the government buys. By a just price I mean a price which will sustain the industries concerned in a high state of efficiency, provide a living for those who conduct them, enable them to pay good wages and make possible the expansions of their enterprises which will from time to time become necessary as the stupendous undertakings of this great war develop. We could not wisely or reasonably do less than pay such prices. They are a necessity for the maintenance and development of industry; and the maintenance and development of industry are necessary for the great task we have in hand.

Facts Masters Now.

"But I trust that we shall not surround the matter with a mist of sentiment. Facts are our masters now. We ought not to put the acceptance of such prices on the ground of patriotism. Patriotism has nothing to do with profits in a case like this. Patriotism and profits ought never, in the present circumstances, be mentioned together. It is perfectly proper to discuss profits as a matter of business with a view to maintaining the integrity of capital and the efficiency of labor in these tragical months when the liberty of free men everywhere and of industry itself trembles in the balance, but it would be absurd to discuss them as a motive for helping to serve and save our country."

"Patriotism leaves profits out of the question. In these days of our supreme trial when we are sending hundreds of thousands of our young

NAMES MILITARY BOARD TO PROBE RACE RIOT

Adjutant General Dickson Acts On Order of Gov. Lowden

Will Investigate Conduct of Illinois Guardsmen on Duty at East St. Louis, July 2 and Subsequent There- to When Negroes Were Killed and Their Houses Burned.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 11.—By order of Governor Lowden, Adjutant General Frank S. Dickson, late today named a military board of inquiry to convene in East St. Louis at once for the purpose of investigating the conduct of Illinois guardsmen on duty at East St. Louis July 2 and subsequent thereto when negroes were killed and their houses burned by a mob.

Members of Board.

The military detail for the inquiry is composed of seven men, who probably will report to duty at the scene of the inquisition tomorrow. They are: Brigadier General Henry R. Hill, second brigade; Colonel James E. Stewart, reserve; Colonel Taylor E. Brown, reserve; Colonel Milton J. Foreman, Second Illinois Artillery; Colonel William Nathan Macchiesney, Judge Advocate; Major Edgar B. Toyman, reserve and Major Richard Abbott, quartermaster corps.

In the special order of the adjutant general these instructions are set forth:

Response to Criticism.

In conducting this inquiry, the board will inquire into all matters pertaining to the conduct of officers and men as well as the conduct of civilians and civil authorities whose conduct or actions may have a bearing on the subject being investigated and will also investigate into and report upon the conditions giving rise to or existing at the time of the tumult and riot or in any way affecting the situation at the time the troops reached the scene thereof and subsequent thereto. The investigation is in response to severe criticism of military officials because guardsmen apparently were unable to put down the rioting in the course of which nearly two score of negroes and several white men lost their lives.

Guardsmen are alleged to have been without ammunition, and some are said to have refused to interfere with the activities of the mob. The order for the inquiry came after a long conference at which were present Governor Lowden, Adjutant General Dickson and Attorney General Brundage who returned from East St. Louis at noon. Mr. Brundage stated his office would have charge of the legal end of the investigation.

WILSON APPROVES EXEMPTION BOARDS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 11.—Exemption board members, named by Governor Lowden in place of others who declined to serve were approved by President Wilson today as follows:

Division Two, Chicago, Dr. W. C. Danforth, vice Dr. William R. Parks, Division 28, Chicago, Dr. Sebastian Stol, vice Dr. W. E. Miller, who was transferred to Division 27; Division 45, Chicago, Dr. Charles A. Albrecht, vice Dr. J. L. Abt, deceased; Division 55, Chicago, Dr. W. A. Montgomery, vice Dr. Wallace Blanchard; District 63, Chicago, Dr. Albert C. Hammett, vice Dr. R. R. Ferguson; district two, Rockford, Dr. Danie Lichty, vice Dr. Emil Lofren; Perry county, Dr. George F. Mead of Pinckneyville, vice Dr. Charles Templeton; Adams county, Dr. A. D. Bates, Camp Point vice Dr. David Knapp; District 2, Bureau county, Dr. Frank B. Schurtz, Spring Valley, vice Dr. J. Herbert Franklin; Division 3, Madison county, Dr. Robert W. Binney, vice Dr. L. G. Burroughs; Kankakee county, Fred Mann, vice Albert Bothfuhr; Montgomery county G. H. Webster, vice Charles E. Morgan.

WOULD TREAT DRUG ADDICTS WITH MEDICINE

CHICAGO, July 11.—Medical treatment of those suffering from alcoholism or for drug addicts as a means of preventing the loss of their reason was advocated tonight by Charles B. Towns of New York in an address before the convention of Alienists and Neurologists of America.

The speaker reviewed years of experience in the cure of alcoholics and sufferers from the use of drugs and asserted that the toxins of alcohol or drugs together with the craving for the persons could be medically eliminated in a few days but beyond that period it is a matter of physical and mental recuperation. He argued that sudden withdrawal of the narcotic stimulus without proper medical treatment tended to induce insanity.

MAN BEATEN BY ROBBERS IN SERIOUS CONDITION.

Bloomington, Ill., July 11.—The condition of Tony Hassenratz, of Chenoa, who was beaten by robbers last night, was very serious tonight and his recovery is doubtful. In searching his home today, authorities found $20,000 in cash in the bottom of a bureau drawer covered by old rags. It was immediately deposited to his credit in a Chenoa bank. No trace has been found of the robbers who secured about $400.

AVIATOR LANDS IN HOLLAND

Paris, July 11.—Sergeant Major Antoin Pallard, one of the French aviators who participated in the bombardment last Friday of the Krupp factory at Essen, Germany, and who failed to return, has, it is now learned, landed safely in Holland.

GREEK ARMY IS TO BE INCREASED

ROME, July 11.—The Greek army is to be increased from three to ten divisions, the recruiting and complete equipment of which are to be completed within four months, according to plans outlined today by Charles C. A. Jonnart, Entente high commissioner in Greece. M. Jonnart has reached Rome on his way to Paris where he will lay before the representatives of the Entente Powers the results of his work in Greece, which includes the abdication of King Constantine, and important reforms which he expects to carry out under the new regime of Premier Venizelos.

MAKE PROGRESS TOWARD FOOD BILL COMPROMISE

Many Important Features Still To Be Worked Out

Whole Outlook Remains Uncertain—Final Approval of Gore Measure in Senate Agriculture Committee Withheld Only Because of Minor Details

Washington, July 11.—Considerable progress toward a compromise on food control legislation was made today in the senate but several important features still are to be worked out and the whole outlook remains uncertain. On the floor perfunctory debate continued on the administration bill which leaders virtually have agreed to abandon, but in the agriculture committee such headway was made with consideration of Senator Gore's substitute measure that members said final committee approval was withheld only because of minor details.

May Re-Open Prohibition Fight

The committee however, virtually washed its hands of the troublesome prohibition issue voting to put into the substitute the same regulations which the senate already has approved. These would prohibit manufacture or importation of distilled liquors and would also provide for government acquisition of all liquor now in bond at cost plus ten percent. The latter provision, embodied in the Smoot amendment has been under repeated attack both from wets and drys since its adoption. Whether the committee's action on that point will be satisfactory to the senate or will re-open the whole prohibition fight is problematical. Some changes were made in the Smoot provision in order to meet criticism regarding its constitutionality and committee members said they hoped that would quiet its opponents.

Tomorrow the committee will meet again and may give formal approval to the measure and report it as a substitute for the administration bill. The Democratic Steering committee also will hold a conference on the subject in an effort to make certain that legislation finally is put before the senate which will command a majority when a vote is taken under agreement on July 21. Sentiment in the agriculture committee today was said to be overwhelmingly in favor of legislation along the lines of the Gore bill restricting the general scope of the legislation to food and fuels.

Approves Amendments Informally

The committee informally approved amendments extending federal licensing provisions to fuel, limiting absolute government control to wheat and fuel, and changing the language of the distilled beverage commanding section so as to remove technical objections to the price fixing clause. When the Gore substitute is finally passed by the lines will be offered finally with the administration's backing is yet to be determined. It is probable that President Wilson's advice will be sought by leaders before a substitute is formally recommended.

HORSES ARRIVE AT FORT SHERIDAN CAMP

FORT SHERIDAN, Ill., July 11.—Arrival of two hundred horses at the officers training camp brought joy today to the aspirants for commissions in the mounted branch of the service. There was one vacancy in the squad of troopers, Louis F. Swift, Jr., son of the packer was sent to his home in Lake Forest suffering from German measles.

The horses are the former mounts of the first cavalry Illinois National Guard, now the Second Illinois Artillery.

CROPS NEED RAIN IN SOUTH PART OF STATE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 11.—The week ending July 10 was favorable for farm work, but rain is needed especially in the southern part of the state, according to the weekly crop bulletin for Illinois issued by the weather bureau today.

"Corn is backward but is doing well," the report says. "Some fields have been laid by. Farmers are engaged in making hay in all sections, and are cutting oats in the south and wheat in the central counties. The wheat harvest is nearly completed in the southern division. Oats are ripening in the north. "Cherries are ripe in the north, raspberries in the central and early apples in the south."

WARN GERMANS OFF DOCKS

New York, July 11.—A further move to keep the water front free from enemy aliens was made today when placards warning all Germans to keep off were distributed to all docks and piers in the city and Long Island points. It was said similar notices would be sent to points on the Hudson river and the Connecticut shore before the end of this week.

STATES SLOW IN COMPLETING BOARDS

Postponement of Drawing of Draft Numbers Until Next Week Probable

ONLY 21 STATES REPORT

Will Use Revised Census Estimate of Country for Determining Apportionments

DEPENDENTS MAY PLEAD

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Postponement until next week of the drawing of numbers of men who will be called for examination for the National army seemed probable today, when it became evident that states are not completing organization of their district exemption boards as rapidly as war department officials had hoped. Only 21 states have reported their organization complete, although in most others only a few districts are missing. The drawing will not be made until the lists for the country are complete. A so-called revised census estimate for the entire country, compiled on the basis of the draft registration, will be used for determining apportionments. Each city, county or state must furnish two-thirds of one percent of its paper population, according to the new estimates which were made for the purpose of equalizing the draft rather than to represent actual population totals.

New York City Must Give 43,382

Thus New York City, with an estimated population of 6,504,185 must give 43,382 of the 687,000 young men to be called on the first draft. A city with 25,000 population would be required to give 166 men. These apportionments would be subject to slight allowances for alien enemies, for men who have volunteered and for other causes.

The population estimates, far from attempting to show actual populations, simply are improvised figures reached by considering the number of registrants in each subdivision as 9.32 per cent of the population, since the total number registered, 9,659,382, was 9.32 per cent of the total estimated population, 1,037,330. The process resulted in large dummy population showings for cities with war industries where there has been a recent influx of workmen without their families. Since the figures are based on the number of men available for military service, however, officials consider the estimates fair as a basis for apportionment.

Pleas for exemption of any man need not be made by him but may be entered by a wife, other dependents, employer or any other third person, the provost marshal general's office explained in a statement. It also explained that any registered man absent from his home district need not return for personal examination, but may be ordered by his home board to be examined elsewhere. The dummy population estimates by states follow:

NAMES SCHOFIELD COMMISSION MEMBER

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 11.—Judge William D. Schofield of Marshall, formerly judge of the appellate court of Illinois, third district was made a member of the state civil service commission to succeed James D. Burdette of Chicago by Governor Lowden today. Judge Schofield is a Democrat. The other members of the commission both Republicans are Albert D. Early of Rockford chairman and M. E. Walsh of Harvard.

NEVER INTERFERED WITH POLICE BOARD

East St. Louis Mayor Makes Statement At Meeting

Assistant Attorney General Middlekauff States he Considers the Police Inefficient—Will Not Depend on Police Board in Conducting Grand Jury Probe.

East St. Louis, Ill., July 11.—Mayor Mollman who attended the meeting of the committee of one hundred appointed by the chamber of commerce to investigate the race rioting here on the night of July 2 said today that he never had interfered with the working of the police board. One of the commissioners was quoted by a minister as having said that he had tried to get certain measures thru, but had been prevented.

Edmund Goedde, president of the park board, then quoted a commissioner as having said that he could not get results regarding reform measures. Mayor Mollman jumped to his feet and said that if any commissioner could not "get results he should resign as he was not big enough for his position."

The mayor concluded by promising to remove the commissioner if he still believed he could not get results.

Assistant Attorney General Middlekauff, who will have charge of the St. Clair county grand jury investigation said he considered the police inefficient. Regarding the grand jury investigation he said that on his arrival in East St. Louis he talked with State's Attorney Schumelieff and was told there were no witnesses to appear. "Think of that," he added, "the greatest crime in the history of the state and the state's attorney told me we had no witnesses a week after the rioting."

The assistant attorney general said his chief, Attorney General Brundage, had asked Mayor Mollman to dismiss the police board and that the mayor had replied that it first would be necessary to consult his friends. Middlekauff said that in conducting the grand jury investigation he would not depend on the police board.

ISSUE STATEMENT OF BRITISH SHIP LOSSES

LONDON, July 11.—Fourteen British merchantmen of more than 1600 tons were sunk last week, according to the statement of weekly losses issued here today. It follows:

Arrivals, 2,898.
Sailings, 2,798.

British merchant ships sunk by mine or submarine over 1600 tons including one previously reported, 14; under 1600 tons, 3.

British merchant ships unsuccessfully attacked, including four previously reported, 17. British fishing vessels sunk, including one previously reported, 7.

The increasing effectiveness of the measures against submarines which are being carried out by British and American warships is shown in the record of last week. With one exception the number of merchantmen sunk is the lowest of any week since the British inaugurated in March, the system of giving out weekly reports.

STAGE WORLD'S RECORD EXTRA HOLE MATCH

CHICAGO, Ill., July 11.—A world's record extra-hole match was staged today in the second match round of the Western Amateur Golf championship at Midlothian, Ned Sawyer of Boblink Club, Chicago, defeating Robert Markwell, Yale University star on the 42nd hole after having been five down at the 27th hole.

It took par golf for the veteran Sawyer, west champion in 1906, to overtake his younger opponent, who was dormant three after 33 holes of splendid golf, but the strain finally told on the young collegian.

The other seven matches were not close and three were one sided.

BEGIN LICENSING CARGOES

Washington, July 11.—Licensing of cargoes under the export control provision of the espionage act was begun today by the department of commerce. The licenses issued were for shipments which leave American ports after July 15 when the provision becomes effective. Cargoes leaving before that time require no licenses.

INDIANA BAR CONVENTION

Indianapolis, Ind., July 11.—Many eminent leaders of the bench and bar assembled at the Country Club here today for the twenty-first annual meeting of the Indiana State Bar association. The program for the session called for the presidential address by William A. Hough, of Greenfield, and the annual address to be delivered by Charles S. Cutting, of Chicago. The meeting will conclude tomorrow.

HOUSE PASSES TRADING WITH ENEMY MEASURE

Bill Modeled After England's Trading With Enemy Act

Contains Prohibitions Against Business Interference with Any Country with Which the United States is at War or Its Allies, Except Under License.

Washington, July 11.—The administration trading with the enemy bill, containing prohibition against business interference with any country with which the United States is at war or its allies, except under license and providing for government seizure of the property of alien enemies and enemy patents, passed the house today without a record vote.

Modeled After British Act.

In general the measure is modeled after Great Britain's trading-with-enemy act but certain features of the British legislation which have been considered of doubtful validity in international law were omitted. The bill was under consideration in the house only three days and few amendments were adopted. A section which would have prohibited any messages between the United States and enemy territory was stricken out and the provisions restricting firms in neutral countries were modified so that such firms would be reached by the act only if they had inter-related business relations with firms in the United States and enemy countries. The bill now goes to the senate.

The enemy property seizure section, providing that an official custodian take over all such holdings and that their disposition after the war be left to congress was approved after a sharp attack by Representative Hill of Connecticut. He maintained that separate accounts of all seizures should be kept, interest and dividends paid on them and restoration after the war assured, declaring such a course was contemplated in The Hague treaties. He also protested vigorously against present war department regulations which make it impossible for one or his naturalized German constituents to travel more than fifty miles on one permit. "We are beyond the point where Bureaucracy in Russia ever reached," he declared.

Believes Property Will Be Restored.

Representative Montague of Virginia, Democrat, and Representative Esch of Wisconsin, Republican, declared there need be no fears regarding restoration of alien property as congress undoubtedly would see that it was restored after the war. Representative LaGuardia of New York made a fight against the patent seizure section. He maintained that salvarsan, a German patent specific, could not be successfully compounded in the United States. Representative Miller of Minnesota replied that he was informed the compounding could be done in this country at a price far lower than that now prevailing.

LOWER HEIGHT AND WEIGHT MINIMUM

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Small men make as good soldiers as big men in the revised opinion of the war department which has instructed recruiting stations to open the ranks of the regular army to men no more than five feet one inch in height and who weigh only 110 pounds.

The order was issued on the basis of a recommendation made by Surgeon General Gorgas who advised that good men were being kept out by the minimum height and weight limit of five feet four inches and 120 pounds. As a matter of fact, however, recruiting officers had been instructed not to enforce rigidly the height and weight minimum limits, and there are a considerable number now in the army who are below the five feet four requirement.

The new orders will have a wide effect in national guard recruiting and probably in selections for the national army. Regular army standards govern both of these services in a general way.

The regular army still was short some forty thousand men when recruiting closed today, only 1,226 men having been accepted during the day. Vermont added two men, making 87 furnished from that state since April 1 on a quota of 710.

NICHOLAS WANTS TO SUBSCRIBE TO LOAN

PETROGRAD, July 11.—Former Emperor Nicholas has appealed to the provisional government to allow him and the members of his family to acquire stock in the "loan of freedom."

The former emperor announces that the amount of their investment in the loans depends whether the Russian state intends to support his family. He adds that of his own property he possesses now only 900,000 rubles, his wife 1,000,000 rubles, his heir Alexis 1,500,000 rubles, his daughter Olga 3,000,000 and his other daughters between 1,000,000 and 2,000,000 rubles.

NAME SPRINGFIELD MAN MEMBER OF COMMITTEE

Washington, July 11.—A. G. Porch of Springfield Ill. has been appointed an additional member of the committee of insurance men who will advise Secretary McAdoo in planning insurance for men in the army and navy.

QUAKE DAMAGES ISLANDS

Melbourne, July 11.—A despatch received here from Sava, Fiji Islands, says damage has been caused in the Samoan Islands by a severe earthquake and tidal waves. The friendly islands also have experienced an earthquake.

HOLLWEG WITHHOLDS NEWS OF MEETING

Refuses to Make Known Proceedings in Session Of Crown Council

ATTACK HOLLWEG POLICY

Socialist Paints Picture of Difficult Internal Situation in Germany

SITUATION IN DOUBT

AMSTERDAM, July 11.—Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg declined yesterday to make known to the Reichstag main committee the proceedings in the session of the crown council on Monday regarding which there is much speculation with and without Germany. The committee then decided to adjourn. The event are described as follows in a semi-official statement issued yesterday in Berlin:

"The main committee of the Reichstag met at 9 o'clock this morning. Friedrich Ebert (Socialist leader) requested the chancellor, who was present to give information in regard to what happened in the crown council yesterday on the ground that there is much speculation with and without Germany. The committee then decided to adjourn. The event are described as follows in a semi-official statement issued yesterday in Berlin:

Attacks Hollweg's Policy.

Copenhagen, July 11.—The debate in the main committee of the Reichstag was opened by Dr. Gustav Stresemann, national liberal, with a sharp attack on Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg's policy, particularly that of foreign affairs, which he characterized as being based on no definite consistent program. The chancellor retorted by saying that he was forced to look to all sides for support because the Reichstag offered him no stable majority. Give him this and he would be able to develop a consistent program.

The Vossische Zeitung adds that the chancellor expressed readiness and willingness to carry thru necessary internal reforms.

Herr David, Socialist, painted a picture of the difficult internal situation in Germany. He declared the existing dualism between the government and the people must cease. Thereafter the chancellor again briefly spoke before the committee without reaching any decision.

Afternoon papers yesterday generally assumed that an agreement on all parties except conservatives and extreme Socialists had been made by a joint committee to the Reichstag on peace terms and internal reforms. This it is said, would contain reiteration of the chancellor's announcement of August, 1914, that Germany's purpose in the war was not conquest but defense and independence of territorial integrity, expressing a readiness to conclude peace on that basis with a provision rejecting all designs aiming at an economic boycott and continuance of international hostility after the war.

The declaration, according to report, would also cover the formation of a coalition ministry with representatives of all parties and immediate reform of the Prussian franchise.</

SOME HISTORY IN POINT.

A prominent paper in the rich province of Quebec is demanding that the province secede from the Dominion of Canada and set up a new republic on the banks of the St. Lawrence. This suggestion is made as a protest against the adoption of conscription in Canada. Advocates of this plan will do well to turn the pages of American history back a little more than fifty years. They'll find a complete story of secession.

STREET PAVEMENT INSPECTION.

Perhaps if the jurors in the loop district paving case had done the inspection work by driving instead of walking about the streets it is proposed to pave they would have had less trouble in reaching a verdict. Those street pavements look bad enough but one must drive over them in order to get a real appreciation of conditions. Many are the cars equipped with shock absorbers, but these inventions do not work on some Jacksonville street pavements.

FOOLING THE PUBLIC.

One effect of the Creel admission that he invented the story of the submarine attack on the vessels carrying U. S. troops to France has been to fill the reading public with doubt. Now a headline "Vessel carrying war party fired on by submarines," means little except to make the reader wonder who wrote the story and to speculate that nine chances out of ten it was faked. Mr. Creel has fully demonstrated his unfitness as U. S. publicity agent or news censor.

LOCAL BOARD WORKED FAST

They are very progressive and up-to-date in Sangamon county in some ways, but we cannot refrain from commenting on the fact that the exemption board report was not forwarded to Washington until Tuesday night. The Morgan county report went forward Saturday, in accordance with the wishes of the government.

Incidentally it is known that the local Cross membership secured in county places the county in a honor roll of six, with a listing of either first or second place.

KERENSKY'S INSPIRING EXAMPLE.

One of the leading magazines this week has a picture and sketch of Kerensky, the Russian minister of war who is termed "the greatest man of his day." Certainly there is a vast amount of patriotic inspiration in remembering that Kerensky, who filled the Russian troops with such new vigor and spirit that the army became an organized force instead of a forceless mob, is an invalid and a cripple. Physical infirmities often fail to crush the spirit and sometimes instead of crushing give greater force and strength. This must be true of the Russian war minister, who is now having such a large part in directing Russian democracy in its struggle to survive.

NEUTRALS IN HARD LINES.

Considering all the facts, one cannot resist some feeling of sympathy for such neutral nations as Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Spain and Switzerland. It is true the records show that some of the supplies that have gone from the U. S. to these countries have eventually reached Germany. Now the U. S. is going to demand specific pledges as to the disposal of goods shipped or there will be none shipped. Some of the neutrals are inclined to look upon this as an effort to force them into the war and are resentful. On the other hand, they have suffered grave indignities from Germany and some of them have experienced heavy losses to shipping without promise of reparation.

These countries are uncomfortably close to Germany and with the constant picture before them of what happened to Belgium and Serbia it is no wonder that they give evidence of hesitation in determining the policy they must pursue. These small countries are in a tremendously precarious position and whichever way they turn they are doomed to meet sorrow and suffering. It is an unfortunate condition and just now nobody can help it but the kaiser.

TOMMY'S BEER.

(Decatator Review.)

It seems the people who like their beer speak with different voices in America and in the United Kingdom. With us there has been a movement to shut off the manufacture of beer for the period of the war. This is justified on the ground that the grain that goes into beer making is needed to feed ourselves and our Allies.

But they also need food in England; it is a point they need to watch more carefully than we do in this country. They have been in the fight long enough to have a keen appreciation of what food means. There is talk of starving England and thus bringing her to sue for peace.

For some time in England there have regulated the amount of beer to be made. Under regulations that have existed up to this time beer making was limited to 2,900,000 standard barrels for the quarter ending September 30. The English workman clamored for more for this particular quarter.

The government decided to permit the manufacture of a third more beer for this quarter, an additional 920,000 standard barrels, making a total of 3,820,000 barrels for the quarter.

Of course this ruling made a noise in parliament. In that body the ruling was supported on the ground that deficiency in beer "had caused unrest and even strikes, thus lowering the output of munitions and interfering with the conduct of the war."

It is plain that when you propose to take beer away from the Englishman, even in the name of conserving food, you start something that isn't easily finished.

STREET DUST IS A NUISANCE.

The complaints from business men about the square with reference to street sprinkling are numerous and vigorous. Unfortunately as so often happens in Jacksonville, there is a great difference of opinion about methods which would give the most relief. For two years oil was used on the square and adjacent streets with satisfactory results to a majority of the merchants. Some however, complained that the surface was so slick that it was dangerous and there were visitors from the country who also made objection.

As a result last year cilling the business district was forbidden and the city council procured a street flusher, which was used at night and kept the streets in fairly satisfactory condition. The plan of the council was to have merchants pay for this flushing service the same amount that had been expended for oiling or sprinkling in the past. No agreements were entered into but when the city sought to collect for the service there were very few merchants who were willing to pay. Therefore this year nothing has been done about furnishing regular service with the flusher, no attempt has been made at oiling and no one in Jacksonville owns a street sprinkling outfit.

About the only plan that gives promise of relief is for the merchants to attend the city council session and show the council that the large majority of them are in favor of oiling. With such a showing it is possible that an approval of this method might be given. If this fails then someone should certainly take up the matter of street sprinkling and procure the necessary wagon for taking care of the business district. As it is now the dust is not only a source of great annoyance but also an expense. Such quantities of dust coming in at the open doors of many stores means positive damage to the goods on shelves and counters. In all business places the dust is a nuisance as it settles upon desks and all inside equipment. The situation is one which should certainly be given early attention and an effort should be made to get some unanimity of action in order that the benefit may be speedy.

A BACKWARD LOOK GIVES COURAGE.

There is a vast amount of comfort to those of present conditions in a comparison of present conditions with those of a hundred years ago, drawn by a writer in a Quincy paper. We hear and know so much of German efficiency—are so well aware that the German fighting machine is founded upon a long period of preparation and a marvelous military system—it is no wonder that as we contemplate these things and consider what has happened in the last two years, that sometimes a feeling of doubt creeps in as to the ultimate result. Germany has thru the long period mentioned resisted the attacks of the great nations of England, France, Russia and Italy. Ammunition and supplies are still going forward to the German army and new drafts are bringing more men to the colors. A few miles of land have been recovered in the fight against the Teuton forces, but only with immense loss of life in the armies of the allies.

But after thinking of these things it is the backward look of a hundred years to the day of Napoleon that gives real cause for hopefulness and presents the historic fact that if purpose and courage are steadfast, that in the end the victory will certainly come to those nations who really have the greatest resources to back up their courage and faith.

"It so happens that a little over 100 years ago men all over the world were in like case. For years and years Napoleon kept Europe in a turmoil. For years men were poured into the caldron of war never to appear again. For years endless blood and treasure were spent in the endeavor to topple the emperor from his seat of power. Nations entered the lists against him and then, losing their stomach for the fight, withdrew.

"Only England remained steadfast. In the end through the stubborn courage and faith of England, Napoleon was defeated and sent an exile to the island of St. Helena. It was a war of attrition in which the holder of the biggest pile of dollars and the biggest supply of men was bound to win. "So in this war, when we despair, when we wonder if there is ever to be any end to it, let us resolve to hold fast and sit steady. The allied democracies of the world hold the better and ultimately the winning hands. Since America's accession to the cause—men, money, food and supplies far outmatch those of the Teuton alliance. And victory for liberty is bound to result."

Hard Times

Keep out of debt and save the dime till they are red and rusted, and so when come the times they will not find you busted. But do not pare and board and skimp like some jinxed miser; by doing that you'll be a simp, and comfort Bill the kaiser. A lot of panic stricken jays at us are dilly shrieking, to starve ourselves in forty ways, and end all costly leaking. I don't admire the frenzied bore who jays us in the journals; a slump in trade would hurt us more than losing many colonels. We want to see the wheels go round, the forges brightly burning, to see the workmen saw and pound, their wages briskly earning. When commerce sags all men are fired and coin no more is flowing, oh, then, the pinch that makes us shiver we surely will be knowing. Economy is always wise, and waste's a sinful doin', but we may all economize to our eternal ruin. Don't let the war's colossal strain your brainpan be upending; oh, friends, be moderate and sane, in saving as in spending.

THIS DATE IN HISTORY

July 12, 1849—Cholera is raging with insupportable violence at Mt. Vernon, Illinois. Several of the best citizens there have fallen victims to it. Mt. Vernon is a town in the central part of the state, far from the rivers. How long before the dire disease may spread all over the interior? Let there be no careless reliance upon our interior location.

This is the first day of Hillerby's big closing out sale. A real sale. Be sure and be there if you want to save money. Open at 9 o'clock this morning.

Social Events

Strawn's Crossing Club Elected Officers

The Strawn's Crossing Woman's club met recently with Mrs. Lillian Perry. The semi-annual election of officers was held and the following chosen:

President—Mrs. Pearl Cully.
Vice President—Mrs. Pauline Corington.

Secretary—Mrs. Ethel Strawn.
The meeting was opened with the president, Mrs. Armstrong in the chair and the members sang America. Mrs. Ben Linton gave an interesting talk on Red Cross work and birth registration. Mrs. Armstrong presented a splendid paper on cooking poultry. Mrs. Louise Harris read a paper on Carnegie Institute. On roll call the members responded with patriotic quotations. Following the program a social hour was enjoyed during which the hostess served refreshments. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Bertha Sturgeon, 345 East North street, this city.

Gleaners of Ebenezer Church Hold Meeting

The Gleaners Sunday School class of Ebenezer church met with Miss Pearl Bridgeman at her home northwest of the city Wednesday afternoon. The class decided to contribute a fund to the Red Cross society. The following program was carried out:

Music—Miss Nina Flynn.
Paper, My First Experience at Housekeeping—Mrs. William Hadden.

Music—Mrs. Howard Martin.
Music—Miss Ruby Dewese.
Following the business session a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Dance at Alexander.

A number of Jacksonville people were present at the platform dance given at Alexander Tuesday evening. The floor is one of the best in this vicinity and with more than two hundred people present the dance was an all round success.

Miss Black Hostess at 6 O'Clock Dinner.

Miss Mary Black entertained at her home Wednesday evening north of the city, honoring Mrs. Eugene Caldwell of Havana, who, before her marriage, was Miss Irene Black. The event was a "novelty rush" for Mrs. Caldwell and many were the handsome gifts presented her. A dinner of five courses was served at 6 o'clock and after this the time was spent in games and social conversation. Pink and white were the dominant color tones in the dining room and house decorations. For each of the guests the occasion was a happy one and none will soon forget the hospitality afforded by Miss Black, the hostess.

MATRIMONIAL

Goodpasture-Mason.

The marriage of John Floyd Goodpasture and Miss Bertha Irene Mason both of Concord, was solemnized Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock by the Rev. John W. Priest at his residence, 610 Grove street. Mr. and Mrs. Goodpasture left on the 8:30 o'clock Wabash train for Chicago and after a wedding journey of several days will return to Concord to make their home.

Both young people are from families of high standing in northern Morgan county and both will receive words of congratulation and good wishes without number. The groom has been engaged in farming and in school teaching.

Harmon-Johnson.

Lewis Harmon and Miss Catherine Winifred Johnson were married Wednesday forenoon at 8 o'clock at the Church of the Sacred Heart, in Franklin, the Rev. A. Smith, pastor of the church officiating. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mrs. William Ludwig of Alexander, sister of the bride. The groom is a son of the late Patrick Harmon and is a young man of industry and good repute, well deserving of the many good wishes he will receive. The bride is the daughter of Evan Johnson, near Franklin. She was reared in that community and her charms of person and character have endeared her to friends in large number.

The young people will make Franklin their home. Wednesday evening a reception was held for the young people in Marguerite hall, at Franklin, with dancing as the principal feature of a very pleasant evening.

WITH THE SICK

Ruh Jones, of the Courier force, is carrying his left arm in a sling as the result of an accident Tuesday afternoon on the state hospital baseball grounds. In the game between the Press club and North Side merchants he fell in such a way as to dislocate the arm.

Albyn Wolfe, hurt in an auto accident Tuesday evening, was resting well last night, according to word from Our Savior's hospital.

FORCE I. W. W.'S TO RETURN TO ARIZONA

Needles, Cal., July 11—Citizens armed with shotguns received sixty men, mostly industrial workers of the World, upon their arrival here early today from Jerome, Ariz., whence they had been deported. A woman in the party escaped and search was instituted for her. Two men also got away.

The newcomers were told they would have to return to Arizona. The men were started back for Arizona on another train a few hours later.

LOOP DISTRICT PAVING PLAN IS UPHELD

Jury Brought in Verdict Late Wednesday Night Declaring Assessments are Not Greater Than the Benefits.

The jury which heard the evidence in the loop district paving case returned a verdict about 11:30 o'clock Wednesday night, which declared that the taxes assessed against the property are not more than the benefits which will result. In accordance with this verdict Judge Thomson will enter an order affirming the assessment roll and the board of local improvement will then have authority to advertise for bids and let the contract for the work.

The argument in the case was concluded by the attorneys just before noon. When court convened in the afternoon Judge Thomson gave his instructions and the jurors retired to their room about 2:30 o'clock. Persons about the court house who could see the jurors thru the windows of the jury room predicted a hung jury.

Judge Thomson came to the court house about 10:30 o'clock with the intention of releasing the jury if no verdict could be reached. He received an intimation that the case was not hopeless and so left for his home with instructions to Deputy Sheriff Andrews, who was in charge of the jury, that a sealed verdict could be received. When Judge Thomson reached home he was notified by telephone by Mr. Andrews that the verdict had been reached. The judge then decided that he would return and receive the verdict from the jury and this was done. Had the jurors been compelled to return to court this morning when their verdict was opened the county would have had an additional expense of $36.33 for each juror.

The form of the verdict returned was as follows: "We the jurors find the taxes assessed against the property of the objectors and each of them contiguous to the proposed improvement is not more than the said respective properties will be especially benefited."

OLDEST IN THE WORLD

The threatened shortage of tin is a reminder of the importance of that metal and of the part it has played in the commerce and industries of the world from remote times. In all the books of history, treating of the ancient world, it is recorded that the Phoenicians made voyages beyond the pillars of the gates of Hercules—the Straits of Gibraltar—and sailed as far to the north as that land now called England, bringing back, among many other commodities, tin from Cornwall. Tin was an export of prime importance before the invasion of Britain by the legions of Caesar.

Tin is referred to in the Bible, and scholars have learned that copper was alloyed with tin by the Egyptians at least 1600 years before the coming of Christ. Pliny had something to say about tin, and students of his writings believe that in his time the Romans had no very clear understanding of the difference between tin and lead, but they knew there was a difference, because they called lead "plumbum nigrum" and tin "plumbum album." The early Greeks called tin "kassisteros" and the Hebrews called it "bezhil."

It was about the fourth century that the Romans, having come to a very fair understanding of the properties of tin, called it "stannum," which remains its technical or scientific name today. Its symbol in chemistry is "Sn," an abbreviation of stannum. At a much earlier period the Greek alchemists, who long experimented with tin, called it "hermes."

The tin deposits in the south of England are the oldest known workings in the world, and perhaps those that were next discovered and opened were in Saxony and Bohemia. It is believed that the manufacture of tin-plate, or, as it is sometimes called, "terne-plate," was begun in Bohemia early in the seventeenth century, that it spread from there to Saxony, and it was introduced into England in the latter half of the seventeenth century.

It long remained one of the great English industries. In the latter part of the nineteenth century the industry was given a good start in the United States and has prospered immensely. In the old tariff discussions in the '80s and the '90s the people of the United States heard and talked a great deal about tin-plate, and the arguments for and against the development by means of a protective tariff were hot and frequent in congress and in the press.

Tinplate consists of iron or steel rolled into very thin sheets, which are then coated with a composition of tin and lead, lead constituting from 75 to 90 per cent of the composition. There have been processes and improvements in those processes for coating the iron sheets with the tin-lead mixture, and these processes of "tinning" are very interesting. The use and production of tinplate have enormously extended within recent years, not only because of the remarkable growth of the canning business, but because of the popularity of tinplate for making containers of many shapes and sizes for a great variety of articles.

Tin is found in ores with many other metals and minerals and in lumps and grains in alluvial gravels. It is found in Siberia, Australia, Guiana, and, in fact, most parts of the world, but the notable workings, those which furnish the great part of the supply which the world consumes, are in Bolivia and the Straits Settlements.

A large amount of tin is consumed

MACOLPIN COUNTY PUPILS TO HAVE LATE GRADUATION

Carlinville Democrat: Supt. Solomon has announced that the eighth grade graduating exercises will be held at the court house in Carlinville on August 3rd. Owing to the fact that there are so many pupils to take part, and that in the past the program given all at one time has been too long, Mr. Solomon has divided it into two sessions. The city pupils will give their program in the afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock. The rural pupils will give their program in the evening, commencing at 8 p. m.

The pupils will give the entire program, including the literary and musical numbers.

SON OF NORMAN CARLSON OF MURRAYVILLE, HURT

Francis Carlson, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Carlson of Murrayville fell from a horse late Wednesday afternoon while taking water to farm hands, alighting in such a way that the animal stepped upon his prostrate body, crushing his arm and badly bruising an ear. Serious consequences are not looked for, according to word of the attending physician. The arm bones were not broken and the several stitches were necessary in treatment of the wound.

FOOD SHORTAGE IN MEXICO

City of Mexico, July 11.—The continuous revolutionary disturbances of the past few years, which have prevented the rural population of Mexico from following their accustomed occupations, now threaten the country with a serious food shortage. To consider a solution of the problem the National Chamber of Commerce has called a meeting to be held here tomorrow of all the prominent land owners of Mexico. The meeting will consider measures to ensure the planting and harvesting of sufficient crops to provide for the necessities of the people. It is hoped that the movement will result in putting a large acreage of previously untilled land under cultivation.

HOUSATONIC POWER PROJECT

Hartford, Conn., July 11.—An important step toward the fulfillment of a great project for the further development of Connecticut water-power and industries will be taken here tomorrow, when the Public Utilities Commission will hear a petition to combine a number of existing corporations with all their power and possibilities into one concern, which will command the Housatonic river and its tributaries. The plan is to harness the enormous waterpower of the Housatonic and bring about its harmonious use all the way down stream. It will add something like 60,000 to 100,000 horsepower to the working force of Connecticut.

JOHN WANAMAKER

NEARS FOUR-SCORE

Philadelphia, Pa., July 11.—In the enjoyment of excellent health, John Wanamaker, merchant, philanthropist, and one of Philadelphia's most eminent citizens, today entered upon his eightieth year. Mr. Wanamaker is a native of Philadelphia and has always made this city his home, with the exception of a brief period spent in Indiana in early manhood and the time spent in Washington when he served as Postmaster General in the cabinet of President Harrison. On the occasion of his birthday anniversary today the wires mails and messengers brought him a flood of congratulations from friends throughout the country.

Miss Elizabeth Brewer left Wednesday for Cleveland, Okla., where she will visit at the family of her uncle, her mother, Mrs. F. M. Brewer, accompanying her as far as St. Louis. Later in the summer Miss Brewer, with her uncle's family, will enjoy a Colorado tour.

STOP TREMENDOUS MANURE WASTE

Farmers Urged by Assistant Secretary Carl Vrooman to Put an End to Annual Billion Dollar Loss of Fertilizing Materials — Methods Suggested.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—Farmers are urged in a statement issued today by Assistant Secretary Carl Vrooman to make every effort to save the vast amount of valuable manure now allowed to go to waste in this country. Assistant Secretary Vrooman estimates that one-half the manure produced in the United States is not used as a fertilizer, there being an annual loss of material worth twelve hundred million dollars—once and a half the value of the country's 1916 wheat crop. "This is not a wild guess," he continues, "but a very shrewd and conservative estimate based on reliable statistics. It has been found that each horse or mule produces annually $27 worth of manure (as compared with commercial fertilizers); each head of cattle $20 worth; each hog $8 worth. Calculating from the 1910 census figures for number of animals on farms—62,000,000 cattle, 24,000,000 horse and mules, 58,000,000 swine and 54,500,000 sheep and goats—the total value of manure produced is found to be about $2,461,000. Recent investigations by the Department of Agriculture indicate that at least half of this great wealth of fertilizing material is sheer waste. In some good general farming sections not more than 15 per cent of the manure produced is used. Even in the most intensive dairy regions, where cows are largely stall fed and comparatively great care taken with the manure, the loss seems to be approximately 25 per cent.

"Here, then, is a job for the American farmer, worthy of his utmost effort and in keeping with the spirit of this great hour in American history. To save a billion dollars worth of manure is a Herculean task—a veritable labor of day. A single stable lot, for instance, the handling of literally millions of tons of dung and litter. It means the construction of concrete manure pits, of paved feeding pens or sheds, and greatly increased care in the conservation and use of bedding materials. It means a lot of work, but it is work that can be done at odd hours and moments, and work that will pay tremendous dividends, not only as a war measure but conceivably for all time, for if we once get the habit of making full use of our available manure supply we are not likely to lapse into the old, wasteful ways again.

"The cheapest and best way to handle manure, where convenient, is to haul it to the field and spread it adlib, or at least every two or three days. In this way, if plenty of bedding be used, practically all the valuable constituents of the manure are saved, since leaching after the manure is on arable land merely serves to put the fertilizing materials where they ought to be. In this way too, loss thru heating, or 'fire-fanging,' is avoided.

"Many farmers, however, are not so situated as to make it profitable for them to handle manure in this way. For such farmers the concrete manure pit offers an ideal way of saving manure. Such a pit need not entail great expense. A pit 3 feet deep, 12 feet long and 6 feet wide, with walls and floors 5 inches thick, will serve the needs of the average farm. In ground that does not cave in, only an inside form will be needed for such a pit, except where the concrete extends a few inches above the ground to prevent flooding by surface water. The floor will be reinforced with woven wire fencing, put in after about two inches of cement has been laid, the section of fencing being cut long enough to bend up a few inches at either end into the side walls. When the reinforcing has been put in, remaining three inches of the floor is laid, and the forms for the side walls set up and used immediately. Use one part cement, two of sand, and four of screened gravel. A pit of this kind is large enough to hold the accumulation of manure on the average farm until such a time as it can be hauled conveniently to the field and spread.

"Another good way to save manure, especially in the case of hogs or of beef cattle, is to have a concrete paved feed lot, preferably under a shed roof. Where the farmer can not afford a paved floor, a cheap open feeding shed may be made to serve the purpose very well if abundant bedding is used to absorb the valuable liquid manure. In such a feeding lot or shed, the manure is allowed to gather under the feet of the animals, each day's bedding being strewn over the well-tramped accumulation below. Some farmers using this system arrange their feed racks so that they can be raised from time to time, making it possible to feed till several feet of solidly packed manure has accumulated under the shed. It has been shown that manure suffers little from heating and leaching when handled in this way.

"The feeding shed serves the purpose of giving the general farm, or the beef cattle farm, something of the advantage in the matter of manuresaving held by the intensive dairy farm. It has been shown by Farm Management surveys that the manure saved on the American farm under present conditions is almost exactly proportional to the number of animals stall-fed on the farm, and that the manure of animals not stalled has very little effect on yields except in cases where field crops are 'hogged-off' or otherwise pastured down or where pasture is used in a rotation.

"This great war has brought home to us Americans, as it has never been emphasized before, the fact that we are the world's champion wasters. Without making any comparisons, and subject to correction if it can be shown that the facts are otherwise I dare aver that our billion dollar manure waste is the world's greatest single economic leak—the prize waste of the champion wasters. With commercial fertilizers scarce, and some of them almost unobtainable, it would seem well worth our while, in this juncture, even without any reference to war conditions, to do everything within our power to stem this tide of loss, especially in consideration of the fact that stable manure is the best form of fertilizer known. And when we consider further the possible effect of a billion dollars worth of manure upon world production at this time when the dollars worth of manure upon world production from famine devolves directly upon us,—well, the vital need for manure pits and feeding lots in this broad land of ours becomes pretty clearly apparent."

ANNOUNCE AIR FIGHT

London, July 11.—The admiralty announced that while on patrol today five naval machines met and engaged a formation of ten Albatross scouts and three large two-seater machines southwest of Nieuport. "Three enemy scouts were driven down completely out of control," the report adds, "while two others were driven down. One of our machines is missing."

Rome, July 11.—About $10,000,000 will be used to organize American Red Cross hospitals and ambulances on the Italian front. This sum will be taken from a fund of $100,000,000 which American headquarters in Paris have at their disposal for Europe.

SEND PROTEST TO GERMANY

Stockholm, July 11.—The government has instructed the Swedish minister at Berlin to protest against the torpedoing of the Swedish fishing boats by German submarines.

LARGE PROFITS IN MANUFACTURE OF CHEMICALS

Amsterdam, Netherlands, July 11.—Judging from the prosperity reflected in the first issued reports of associated manufacturing in the new German chemical trust, the combination in question has worked very satisfactorily in the first year of its existence. Large profits are reported. The trust was founded in the beginning of 1915, with a view to making production as cheap as possible and thus helping the industry to meet the sharp competition expected after the war. Each of the big associated manufacturers, to the number of eight, retained its independence, but agreed to exchange all manufacturing secrets and to divide all profits in accordance with a prescribed scale.

MINE DISASTER HERO DIES

WALL FALLS; TWO KILLED

Freeport, Ill., July 10.—Alvin Ditsworth and an unidentified man were killed and Alton L. Millan was probably fatally injured here today when the wall of an old building adjoining the lot in which they were excavated collapsed and buried them under the debris.

FROM THE EDUCATOR'S NOTEBOOK

Dr. William North Rice, for 59 years a member of the Wesleyan University faculty of Middletown, Ct., will retire next June. His chair is that of geology and natural history. His appointment in 1837 was followed by one year of study abroad and his actual service began in 1838. He will therefore leave only in 1918 in order that he may round out a half century of actual service, a tenure of office equalled by few American educators. Dr. Rice will be 72 years old next November. He was for two years, 1907-1909, acting president of Wesleyan University.

Minneapolis became today one of Uncle Sam's most important naval stations with the arrival of the advance guard of the 1000 enlisted men of the United States navy who are to be trained technically at Dunwoody Institute. Negotiations for bringing enlisted men to Dunwoody for naval training were opened with the Navy Department by Dr. C. A. Froser, the director, shortly after the war began. He offered to train navy men for any technical branch for which Dunwoody was equipped, and the offer was immediately accepted. Artisans of various trades, willing to qualify for high ratings in the navy, are the men to whom Dunwoody will give help.

Plans are now under way for the 13th annual conference of the Chinese Students' Alliance, Eastern Section to be held at Brown university, Providence, R. I., August 31 to Sept. 7. Chinese students from all the leading Eastern colleges and universities will debate on questions of national defense and other matters brought up by the international situation. There will be a vocational conference to discuss the various callings open to educated men and women in China. In these conferences outdoor sports have played a large part, and the program of sports will be an attractive one.

Further evidence of increased interest being manifested by educational institutions in the proper training of men for prison work is seen in the fact that three East View fellowships of $500 each, and maintenance at Westchester County Penitentiary, N. Y., have been accepted by New York University from V. Everit Macy, Commissioner of Charities and Corrections in that county. The sole aim of the plan is to prepare college men to fill executive and administrative positions in criminal institutions. This cannot be done successfully on a theoretic basis. The men accepting the fellowships will be required to do their share of institutional work, from that of mere guard or night watchman to confidential clerk to the warden. They will be required to hold themselves in readiness for extra duty and emergency calls at all times.

"The greatest teachers in ancient India, whose names are still remembered, were forest-dwellers. By the shady border of some sacred river or Himalayan lake, students flocked around them and had their lessons of immortal life in the atmosphere of truth, peace and freedom of the spirit." Thus speaks Rabindranath Tagore, greatest of Hindu bards, recognized by the Eastern world such as no Hindu ever was before him, winner of the Nobel prize, who, aside from his literary activities, has founded a school unique in the world modeled to some extent upon the ancient schools where, says the poet, "reigned the simplicity and wisdom of pure life." The boys, nearly 200 in number, and from all castes of the Hindu world, are governed by a discipline which they have themselves made to a great extent, and which satisfies their ideas of justice and fairness. They have courts where they themselves try the offender against this discipline. The school, called Shantiniketan, the House of Peace, is situated in a forest, and most of the studying and reciting is done under the trees. The boys frequently organize entertainments, where they read their own poems, stories and essays and sing their own music, and where the great poet appears to give his opinion of the value of these productions. There are two periods of meditation, morning and evening, when each boy goes out into the forest or the open fields to worship and meditate, the subjects of his thoughts and the divine object of his worship being left entirely to himself. Tagore says he had in mind when establishing Shantiniketan, "A school which should be a home and a temple in one."

North Dakota now stands second among all the states in the Union in the number of consolidated schools, and in proportion to population it heads the list. A consolidated school, as the name indicates, is a combination of several one-room country schools in one large institution, which is enabled to serve a broader territory by making provision for the transportation of students living at a distance. The consolidated school may consist of two rooms or more. In some small towns of only 200 or 300 people, modern fireproof buildings costing $15,000 to $20,000 have been erected to house the consolidated school. In the "open country" districts, the consolidated school is usually adjoined by a teacherage, occupied by the principal and his wife, with whom the other teachers lodge. In the matter of North Dakota consolidated schools, there are 401 in the state altogether, 250 town schools and 151 open country schools. Each of the state's 51 counties is represented except one—Sioux county, lying almost entirely within the Standing Rock Indian Reservation, and peopled almost exclusively by Dakotas whose children attend reservation schools.

It occurred to a veteran of the Civil War, Alfred King of Arlington, N. J., and a reverent enthusiast regarding Abraham Lincoln, that there ought to be a Lincoln school in the Philippines. He asked Francis Burton Harrison, Governor General, to give consideration to the matter, and as a result of his request word has been received from Manila that one of the two new concrete school buildings there is to be named Lincoln and the other Rizal, after the Philippine poet and patriot who was executed by the Spanish authorities in 1896. After the United States had acquired the Philippines, a heroic statue of Rizal was erected at Manila by the American Government. The coupling of the names of Rizal and Lincoln is one therefore much applauded by both American and native residents of Manila, and the veteran's suggestion to Gov. Harrison a tactful as well as a patriotic one.

WILL ADMIT ONLY LIMITED NUMBER

CHICAGO, Ill., July 11.—Only a limited number of navy recruits complying with all physical tests will be admitted after next Monday, according to word received today from the bureau of navigation by Ensign H. D. Childs, head of the recruiting station in the Chicago district. Hitherto in an attempt to make its weekly quota or exceed it, local officers have waived certain physical defects. After Monday the weekly quota here will be approximately 44 men.

TO CONSIDER ALL WAR QUESTIONS

Paris, July 11.—The forthcoming conference of the Allied governments to be held here will consider not only the Balkans, but everything regarding the war according to the Excelsior. The various governments have not yet designated representatives.

WORRY OVER DRAFT MAY CAUSE DISEASE

Anxiety Psychosis is Described by Dr. Zeller—Many Become Afflicted, Says Alienist.

Anxiety psychosis has made its appearance in the United States within the last few months, attaching itself principally to young men of army draft age, many of whom find their way into the institutions for the insane, according to Dr. George A. Zeller, president of the Alienists and Neurologists, association of America.

This new war disease, which appears often before the men reach the trenches, requires careful attention by medical experts, Dr. Zeller explained. After the men actually get into the war zone, the disease slowly disappears, and the victims again become normal. The malady is brought on by just plain worry, he said, but the care and advice of neurologists are often necessary, even in the field to prevent the men becoming insane. Already many institutions for the insane in this country are receiving many of these young men for treatment, he said.

Expert Attention Needed
"And it is necessary that an expert alienist or neurologist examine all these cases in the various institutions, public and private, to determine the extent of anxiety psychosis," Dr. Zeller cautioned. "Because it already has been discovered that many young men of draft age are shamming in order to avoid being drafted into military service. An expert can tell whether a man is shamming insanity or whether he is really a victim of anxiety psychosis."

Dr. Zeller until recently was alienist for the Illinois board of administration. He has seen service in the medical corps of the United States army during the Spanish-American war in Cuba and in the Philippines. He already has offered his services to the government and predicts that the organization of which he is president will adopt a resolution before adjournment on Thursday, offering the services of its members to the United States army.

Europe Doesn't Know Disease.
"Anxiety psychosis," he continued, "is strangely enough a disease of this war confined largely to the United States. The soldiers of Europe in this war do not suffer from it, because they have been living in military conditions. We of America, however, have been a 'sheltered' nation for nearly two generations and have had nothing to worry about during our long peace. The sudden plunging into this war and the drafting of hundreds of thousands of young men into military service, however, has brought on the disease."

Dr. Zeller called attention to the fact that for the first time in history it has been found necessary to provide a field insane asylum for the army in Europe. This hospital is for the treatment, not only of anxiety psychosis, but also for cases of insanity brought on by poisonous gases and the terrific nervous strain encountered in the trenches. It is in this work that he hopes the American government may use the services of the members of his organization.

Tells of Task Ahead
Among those attending the meeting here is Dr. Gordon S. Mundie, associate in neurology, Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, Canada, who predicts that the medical corps of the United States army will be forced to take over the care and treatment of the injured soldiers sent home from the war zone. Experts are for these wounded men, he explains, is necessary until they recover in order to reduce the otherwise heavy pension lists later. This work, he says, is not within the province of the Red Cross.

Dr. William Hawley Smith of Peoria, Ill., discussed during the afternoon session today how and why persons are "born long or born short" of certain characteristics.

ENLISTS IN NAVY.

Earl Priest, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Priest, has returned from Peoria where he passed successfully the tests for entrance into the navy. He enlisted for service in Springfield, Monday and after passing the physical examination took the oath of apprentice seaman. He is home awaiting call which he expects to enter the naval academy at Annapolis. Mr. Priest graduated from the high school with the class of 1917 and was known for his scholarship and ability as a debater.

CHARGED WITH STEALING HORSE AND BUGGY

Marion Corbridge a young boy of this city was arrested in Concord Monday evening charged with stealing a horse and buggy. He was turned over to Sheriff Graff Tuesday and is in the county jail awaiting a hearing. Young Corbridge seems to have a mania for stealing horses. This is only one of several similar offenses. He has spent some time at the school for boys in St. Charles and probably will be returned to that place.

BAPTISTS WILL ATTEND THE SUMMER ASSEMBLY

Local People Plan to Visit Gathering at Quiver Lake, Havana, July 15-22—Good Program A Ranged.

The Illinois Baptist Summer Assembly will be held at Quiver Lake Chautauqua park, Havana, July 17-22 and a number of local people are planning to attend the sessions for all or part of the time. A Jacksonville party which will camp for the entire assembly will include Misses Elizabeth and Anna Long, Miss Harriet E. Story, Miss Carrie Spies, Miss Mabel Welch and Mrs. Mary Hart. The Rev. T. Harley Marsh of Decatur, a former Jacksonville minister, is president of the assembly and the Rev. E. N. Master-son of Normal is the business manager.

A number of speakers of statewide prominence will appear on the program, among them Dr. L. D. Lamkin of Cairo, Ill., who will deliver the sermon the first Sunday forenoon.

From Monday to Saturday the daily schedule will be as follows:

9:00-9:45 a. m.—Inspirational address by Dr. M. P. Boynton.
9:50-10:30 a. m.—(a) B. Y. P. U. Hour, conducted by Rev. E. LeRoy Dakin. (b) Women's Foreign Mission Hour, study, "An African Trail," conducted by Dr. Etta R. Hilton.

10:35-11:15 a. m.—(a) Sunday School Hour by Rev. Seldon I. Roberts. (b) General Course in Missionary Education, conducted by Miss Ruth Tapping, New York City.
11:20-12:15 — (a) Methods of Pastoral Work, conducted by Dr. Melbourne P. Boynton. (b) Women's Home Mission Hour, "Missionary Milestones," conducted by Miss Lyde Jenkins.

Special evening features will include addresses by Dr. Lamkin and Dr. James H. Franklin of the American Baptist Foreign Missionary society, Boston, on Monday and Tuesday respectively. Wednesday evening will be given over to a social and stunt program. On Thursday evening the Rev. L. C. Trent of Kewanee will give the address and Friday night there will be a talk by the Rev. N. T. Hafer, state missionary. Dean Shailer Mathews of Chicago will speak Saturday night.

Following is the program for the biggest day of the assembly, Sunday, July 22:

9:30—Sunday School.
10:45—Sermon by Shailer Mathews, D. D., Dean of the University of Chicago.

6:30—B. Y. P. U. Service.

7:45—Sermon by Dean Shailer Mathews.

Closing words by the president of the Assembly, Rev. T. Harley Marsh, D. D.

The Sunday School session on each Lord's Day will be in charge of Rev. W. B. Morris, State Sunday School Director.

Rev. J. W. Kimball, pastor at Cornell, will have charge of the music. Mrs. Max Smith of El Paso will have charge of the piano.

CARL F. L. JESSEN WEDS IN ROCKLAND, MICHIGAN

Ceremony Said Thursday, June 28, at Home of Bride, Miss Pearl F. Adair—Will Come to Jacksonville in September

Jacksonville friends have received announcement of the marriage of Mr. Carl F. L. Jessen, popular instructor in piano at Illinois Woman's college, and Miss Pearl F. Adair of Rockland, Mich. The ceremony was solemnized Thursday, June 28, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Adair. Mr. and Mrs. Jessen are spending the summer on the farm of Mr. Adair near Rockland. In the fall they will come to Jacksonville and Mr. Jessen will resume his duties at the college.

Mrs. Jessen is a young woman of great charm and talent and she will be warmly welcomed in Jacksonville musical circles. Mr. Jessen, who came to this city from Clinton, Iowa, has made many friends among Jacksonville people and the news of his marriage will call forth many good wishes and words of felicitation.

MR. WEIR WILL ENTER SERVICE OF THE STATE

Well Known Banker to Assume Duties of Position in State Auditor's Office at Early Date.

Miller Weir some time since was offered a position in the office of State Auditor Andrew Russell. Announcement was just made of that fact yesterday, and further, that Mr. Weir will enter upon his new work about July 15. "New work" hardly expresses it, because the state auditor's office is in reality the banking department of the state and Mr. Weir is thoroughly experienced in that particular line of work. He was for several years cashier of the Jacksonville National bank and his record as a national bank examiner thru a period of years was marked by special proficiency.

Altho the duties of the auditor's office will require Mr. Weir's presence in Springfield much of the time he will continue to reside in Jacksonville, and the arrangements are such that his work as president of the Morgan county board of exemptions will not be interfered with. As indicated Mr. Weir will enter upon his duties in the state capital at an early date.

NOTICE!

Under present city ordinances it is unlawful to haul garbage thru streets of Jacksonville unless same is in air tight cans or a wagon constructed for that purpose. Violations of this ordinance will be vigorously prosecuted.

YOUNG RICKS MAKING GOOD RECORD.

Henry Ricks, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ricks, of 738 Albee avenue, is with the first regiment, second company, U. S. marines and is making an excellent record. Young Ricks was recently taken off the rifle range where he made good as a marksman. This means that he secured a medal and increase of pay of $2 per month. His score was 272 out of a possible 300, and he is therefore entitled to a medal with a silver bar engraved "Marksman." In a recent letter to his parents the young man states that the members of his company are expecting to be called into active service at some early date.

A very delightful birthday party was given recently by Mrs. Warren Watt when twenty little friends of her daughter were entertained in honor of Bernice Watt's seventh birthday. Games and music were played and dainty refreshments served. In the center of the dining table was a large birthday cake, much to the delight of the children and upon this cake lighted candles were placed. A number of handsome gifts were received by the young guest of honor.

BUYING HORSES AND MULES FOR THE U. S.

J. W. Woods and Associates Have Purchased Sixty in Past Ten Days—Animals of Several Classes are Wanted.

J. W. Woods, with D. W. Thomas of Galesburg, has been busy for the past ten days in purchasing horses and mules for the government. Sixty head have been purchased during this time and a carload will be shipped to the government stables in St. Louis today. Leo Roach, also of Galesburg and who is a government agent, accompanies Mr. Woods and Mr. Thomas and passes on the animals before they are shipped.

Horses of several classes are being purchased. Those weighing from 1050 to 1150 lbs. are desired for cavalry purposes and must be not smaller than 15 hands and 1 inch high nor taller than 15 hands and 3 inches. So called siege horses, designed for heavy artillery work, are desired and the government specifies that they must weigh from 1500 to 1700 lbs. and stand from 16 hands to 16 hands and 3 inches high. A third class is the light artillery horse, with the height requirement of 15 hands and 1 inch and not more than 16 hands.

No horse is purchased that is under five years of age or more than nine years and no white horses can be accepted. The government will also buy mules aged from four to ten years and in size 15 hands and 1 inch to 16 hands. Some of these mules are intended for hauling artillery and others are for pack purposes. Buyers are now busy in all parts of the country as the government has given orders for thousands of animals for the purpose indicated.

Emerson Double Disc 7-Inch Phonograph Records, 25c

It is with Satisfaction That We Announce to the Public
That We Have Secured the Agency for this Vicinity for the

EMERSON RECORDS

Hardly more than a year old, The Emerson Phonograph Company has grown from a small experimental group of a half dozen men to a great business organization whose offices occupy several large suites, with a monthly output of over a million and a quarter records, which carry their messages of music, of sentiment, and of humor, to all corners of the earth.

It has been a year of remarkable growth and expansion. EMERSON RECORDS have established themselves upon their merits alone. The year has been spent in perfecting and improving. We have endeavored to make every record better than those which preceded it. It can certainly be said that EMERSON RECORDS today compare favorably with records that sell at four and five times their price.

RECORDING

EMERSON RECORDS are remarkable for their unique method of recording. There is no other record made which employs, or can employ, the Emerson Universal Cut. This is an invention of the genius behind the record, Mr. Victor H. Emerson who, as recording expert for the Columbia Phonograph Company, made that company's records famous.

There are two standard methods of cutting a record for the registering of sounds, the lateral (zig-zag) and the vertical (hill and dale). Each has its advantages. Each requires its own type of machine.

The Universal Cut combines the advantages of both methods of cutting. It can be played on either type of machine.

Mr. Emerson conceived this method, which can be used only on EMERSON RECORDS. This system of recording has been improved by him constantly, so that today EMERSON RECORDS stand as an achievement in talking machine annals.

SELECTIONS

The scope and character of selections recorded on EMERSON RECORDS can be seen by glancing through the pages of their catalog.

Popular songs and dance hits, those which Broadway theatres are featuring and which every one from coast to coast sings and whistles appear on EMERSON RECORDS often simultaneously with their appearance on the stage.

Standard and classical compositions, the songs we all love, marches, operatic favorites, folk songs, home songs—are well represented in the Emerson catalog.

ARTISTS

The artists who record for EMERSON RECORDS are of the highest order—the same artists who record for the larger and more expensive records.

PRICE

The instant, overwhelming success of EMERSON RECORDS proved that they fill a place in the phonograph world never filled before. There was and is a tremendous demand for a record which embodies the highest quality at a low price. EMERSON RECORDS satisfy that demand.

After all, the yearning for amusement, for music, is present in every human breast—but—and there's the rub—it is not a desire which can, nor which should, be satisfied at any cost. There are other more urgent human needs which must be satisfied first.

Yet the love for music is not only legitimate, it is an uplifting passion. The love of the beautiful—is it not, indeed, at the very foundation of our civilization? Shall we disregard it, suppress it?

Concerts by the finest artists are becoming more and more available to the great mass of music lovers of moderate means. Even opera, once thought peculiarly the property of aristocracy alone, can now be enjoyed without unfair sacrifice of effort or money.

The idea that music is for the few is medieval. Music for all is the America idea.

But the old order lingers. Many are still dominated by the idea of the past. And the phonograph field is no exception.

To get good music and bring it into the home required a considerable investment. A single recording of a desirable composition often cost as much as a seat at the opera. A library of favorites was entirely beyond the means of the average family.

WAS—but not IS. For EMERSON RECORDS perfect reproductions of interpretations by artists of note, works of genius, are now a factor, a big factor, in the life of the musical world. Millions of them are being played in American homes daily.

EMERSON RECORDS, in the history of music, occupy as important a place as the newspaper in the history of printing, as the moving picture in the history of the drama. For, just as the press now brings to all the product of the world's greatest thinkers, the camera the work of the world's greatest dramatists and actors, so EMERSON RECORDS now bring within the reach of all the fruits of the genius of the great musical composers.

The Emerson Record is not a mere commercial article placed upon a market which does not need it. EMERSON RECORDS are a distinct innovation, a necessity presented to a public, which, for years, has awaited just such a boon.

The tremendous success of the first year proves this; the response of the people has given incontrovertible proof of this.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

Wm. H. Broadwell

By Ensley Moore

(Member of Illinois Historical Society.)

Nearly all of our oldest settlers knew Wm. H. Broadwell. For he was born of pioneer parents, and one of the first white persons born in this region, almost before Morgan was a county. He lived here to good age, became a leading business man, and was a prominent citizen.

Physically Mr. Broadwell was a large man, both ways; tall and of large frame, built solidly, not flabbily. In complexion, if he had been a woman, he would have been called a pronounced brunette, for he had a dark complexion and dark hair. He was a man of good temper, not easily excited. He probably knew little or nothing of fear. This came to him naturally, for as has been said he came of

Pioneer Parents

He was the son of Baxter and Mary (Lindsay) Broadwell, both of whom were natives of Morris county, N. J. Morristown is the county seat of that beautiful region near the Orange mountains, and that town was at one time the headquarters of Gen. George Washington for a considerable period during the Revolutionary war. The grandfather of Wm. H. Broadwell held land contiguous to that of the handsome estate upon which Washington's headquarters was. The house still stands, a mecca for patriotic Americans.

It is not possible, at present, to obtain much of the early history of the Broadwell side of the house but his grandfather was in the Revolutionary war, and Mary Lindsay Broadwell's father was among the patriots who made us a nation, and her grandchildren here have access to the D. A. R. thru Major Lindsay's services.

Baxter Broadwell

Was a man of considerable education, and taught school for some time, almost deciding to make that his profession. But he was probably too active and vigorous a man to be so restrained for, in the year 1810, he removed to the vicinity of Cincinnati, Ohio, from which place he went into the War of 1812, serving thru the whole continuance of that strife, and being mustered out at the "Queen City of the West."

Mr. Broadwell taught school during most of his stay in Ohio, remaining there until 1818. In that year, with the birth of this new state, he came to Grafton, in Jersey county, Illinois. He came to this county almost three years later, and took part in the organization of Morgan. He took up 100 acres of land which he operated so successfully as to be able to acquire six hundred acres in all. He erected a single cabin at first, adding to it as required. He was an ardent Whig, casting his last vote for Henry Clay, for President. Mr. Broadwell's death occurred in December, 1832.

There were seven children of Baxter and Mary Lindsay Broadwell, Geo. W., Thomas J., James M., Wm. H., Norman M., Louise and Jane S.

Both the Broadwell and Lindsay families are of English descent. In the Revolutionary War Major Lindsay served thruout, and was frequently by the side of Washington in various engagements.

Norman M. Broadwell became a lawyer, and prominent citizen of Springfield, this state. Jas. M. was last a citizen of Burlington, Iowa, being the last survivor of his family. He probably was connected with the "Burlington Hawk Eye" there. He became the second husband of Mrs. Edwards, whose husband, Jas. B., established that fine paper.

The Broadwells had their farm home near or at Morgan City, now called Morgan, on the Wabash railway.

Wm. H. Broadwell was born there, September 14th, 1823, the year Morgan county was organized at what is now called Alton's; a few miles south east of

Wm. H. Broadwell was a prominent member of the Masonic Order, being a member of Hospitaler Commandery. He died November 26, 1888.

Mrs. Broadwell survived her husband some years.

SUMMER FEEDING FOR DAIRY CATTLE

Green Crops and Corn Silage are Best to Supplement Pastures.

According to W. B. Nevens, of the Department of Dairy Husbandry, University of Illinois, it is often difficult to maintain a good milk flow during the hot period of July and August, when pastures become short and dry. The feeding of some hay, green crops, or corn silage is to be recommended when pastures are short. When sufficient feed of a palatable and nutritious nature is supplied, a good milk flow can be maintained except under very adverse conditions.

Barley and oats may be cut green and fed directly, or may be cut and cured for hay. The proper stage of cutting for hay is when the grain has reached the milk stage and when the stalks are still green. These crops contain a much larger percentage of nutrients than nearly mature hay when very young and watery. This hay may be used to supplement pasture after the time that these crops have been cut for grain.

During the first part of July the second crop of alfalfa and, during the latter part of the month, the second crop of clover are usually ready to cut. These two legumes furnish excellent feed when cut green as well as when cured for hay.

Early corn is sometime sufficiently mature for feeding during the latter part of July or early August. If corn is allowed to become fairly mature, however, it has much greater feeding value.

Silage usually furnishes a more economical supplement to pasture than green crops. It also requires less labor, which makes it advantageous, especially during the extremely busy period, like the cropping season.

Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Education of Jacksonville, Illinois, until 12 o'clock (noon) July 16th, 1917, for the construction of a concrete side walk on the north and east sides of the First Ward School Building. The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids. Specifications may be obtained from T. V. Hopper. Bids to be sent to the Secretary of the Board, Mrs. J. K. C. Pierson.

GARBAGE CAN LAW
An ordinance passed by the city council some months ago makes it unlawful for any one to haul garbage or refuse matter thru the streets of Jacksonville unless in airtight cans or wagons which have been built for the purpose. The law was passed because of complaints of garbage and other refuse matter being scattered along the streets thru the carelessness of drivers. The practice was considered a menace to the public health and the ordinance was accordingly adopted. The cans used by the city in the collection of garbage are airtight and it is cans of this type which must be used by any person who hauls refuse matter thru the streets.

SOME WAR RELIEF SOLICITORS FRAUDULENT

State Council of Defense Proposes That Licenses be Issued to Protect the Public.

Chicago, July 11.—The day of the fraudulent and "fake" solicitor of war relief funds has passed in Illinois. If anyone comes into your home, your office or your shop asking for money, or for old clothes or new, or food or any such thing, ask him, (or her), to show his license. If he hasn't one, ask why, for the chances are he is a fraud—unless you know better.

The licenses for legitimate collectors are issued by the State Council of Defense. They can be secured by applying either in person or by mail at the Council's offices at 120 W. Adams St., Chicago. They will be given either to individuals or to societies, clubs or organizations, when sought in behalf of worthy causes, but applicants must give three references, and the application must be made under oath. The Council will furnish the proper blanks for all who wish to make such applications.

To undertake collections without getting the proper license makes the offender liable to a fine of $1,000, under a law which became effective July 1. The law was passed to protect the public, and legitimate societies as well, against fraud and against the wily solicitor who finds it easier to get a living by touching the pockets of the charitable than by working. It covers specifically solicitation for the following purposes:

a—Aid and relief of the prosecution of the war, or any hospital or service exclusively connected with the prosecution of the war.

b—Aid and relief to soldiers or sailors who have been in the war, for their individual benefit or comfort.

c—Aid and relief to the families and dependents of soldiers or sailors.

d—Aid and relief to the families and dependents of soldiers and sailors killed in the war.

The law, however, permits the family or friends of any soldier or sailor to supply him or his family or dependants, with either money, clothing or other property for his use or comfort.

It also permits any club, association, corporation or religious congregation to make collections among its own members for any legitimate war aid or charity.

Solicitation of funds and the like for any organization sanctioned by Congress or the President (such as the Red Cross Society) is also permitted.

The law is not intended to prevent the charitable inclined from giving or from working in behalf of good causes, but it is aimed at frauds and is intended to detect (if any shall be attempted) collections for the benefit of the enemies of the United States.

As the rules of the State Council of Defense require an accounting of all funds collected by its licensees, the law will also probably discourage professional collectors who are more interested in their fees than in the causes they claim to represent.

The Council has named an Advisory Committee to have charge of the licensing bureau, composed of E. J. E. Ward, chairman, W. A. Fox and J. H. Guzik. The committee meets daily to pass on applications, while its office, 120 W. Adams St., Chicago is open during business hours every day to receive applications and give information.

BIDS FOR COAL.

Bids are hereby asked for supplying the city light plant and pumping station with coal for the contract year, which will begin August 9, 1917. Bids are desired for the light plant on mine run, No. 4 and 6 washed, egg, 1 1/4 inch screenings; pumping station mine run and steam lump.

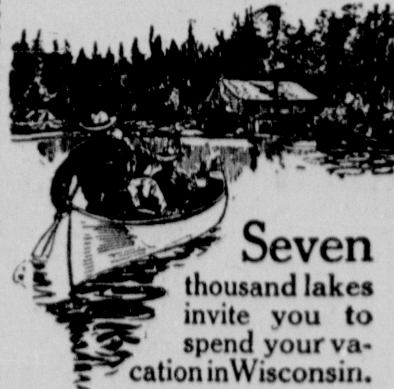

The council reserves the right to reject any and all bids, which will be received until 10 a. m. Monday, July 16th.

R. L. Pyatt, City Clerk.

DAILY SIGNS WITH WESTERN
Chicago, July 11.—Jack Dely former Three I League umpire, signed tonight to officiate in the Western League.

DON'T HURT A BIT!

Lift your old, torturous corns and calluses right off with the fingers.

This tiny bottle holds the wonder of wonders. It contains an almost magical drug discovered by a Cincinnati man. It is called Freezone. It is a compound made from ether.
Apply a few drops of this Freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a hardened callus. Instantly the sore-ness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you just lift it off with the fingers.
You feel no pain or sore-ness when applying Freezone or afterwards. It does not even irritate the skin.
Just ask in any drug store for a small bottle of Freezone.
This will cost but a few cents but will positively rid your poor, suffering feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, or the tough calluses on bottom of feet.
Genuine Freezone has a yellow label.
Look for yellow label.—Adv.

J. Q. ADAMS ANNIVERSARY
Boston, Mass., July 11.—Various patriotic and historical societies of Massachusetts held observance today of the 150th anniversary of the birth of John Quincy Adams, sixth president of the United States, and son of the second president, John Adams.

In the light of present-day events
the career of John Quincy Adams possesses more than ordinary interest to students of American history.
As he had been among the most conspicuous to advocate the War of 1812 with Great Britain, so also was he among the most conspicuous who negotiated the peace that terminated that conflict.

An ardent federalist, as his father had been before him, John Quincy Adams broke with his party in Massachusetts to go over to the side of Jefferson and the Democrats and share their hostility to Great Britain as expressed in the famous embargo act.

In the negotiations of the treaty of peace Adams succeeded in maintaining the American claim to the enjoyment of the ocean fisheries, and while the treaty did not contain any clause prohibiting Great Britain from exercising the assumed right of search and seizure, whose operation brought on the war, she evidently was satisfied that the claim should be abandoned, for it never afterward was reasserted.

URGES IMPORTANCE OF RURAL SCHOOLS

Speaker Before National Education Association Meeting Favors Consolidated Schools and Standardization of School Work—sees Rural Districts Transformed

Portland, Ore., July 11.—American rural schools and the development of the nation for modern civilization, are interdependent, asserted Mrs. Mary C. O. Bradford, Superintendent of Public Instruction for the state of Colorado, in an address before the School Patrons' section of the National Education association here today.

Pointing out that more than half the children of the country receive their instruction in the rural schools the Colorado educator declared it was "easy to see the importance of giving the majority of the school population of our country such advantages as will enable them to transmit the best traditions of American life and thought to future generations."

Mrs. Bradford urged the county unit of school administration, or at least great numbers of "consolidated" schools, the utilization of school plants for community development, and standardization of school work.

"Ample educational facilities for all country children must be afforded by any school system claiming to do efficient work," she said. "The country child is entitled to instruction from professionally trained teachers and to the use of school houses and playgrounds arranged in such a way as to conserve health and comfort and develop appreciation of beauty and the use of power."

"The community is entitled to the possession and use of such buildings for all purposes tending to enrich the community life and to tighten the bond of community unity."

"The rural school teacher is entitled to a salary commensurate with the cost of living and the present day demands in the lines of scholarship, professional activity and community leadership. The teacher also is entitled to a home environment of comfort added to, at least, a modicum of beauty, thereby increasing the efficiency of the teacher."

These things are to be obtained, Mrs. Bradford said, by campaigns of education in every school district, and continued:

"A great vision, this—a rural school system based on a sane and beautiful relation between life activities and educational effort; rural districts transformed; urban populations purified, enriched,—a nation reconsecrated to the service of all humanity."

MR. AUTO OWNER!

Why throw your old auto tires away when they are good for 2500 to 6500 more miles.

My method of taking two old tires and making one good one is saving thousands of auto owners from 50 to 75 per cent on their bills.

Send me two old tires and I will make one good tire that you can get from 2500 to 6500 more miles out of. In sending me tires be sure one has a good rim no matter how bad the tread is worn. For the other one that has a good tread no matter what condition rim is in.

If You Haven't a Tire with a Good Tread I Can Furnish You One

PRICES FOR DOUBLE TREADING

Give Your Battery
a Cool Drink

Your battery gets as thirsty as you do this hot weather—and it doesn't take long to make a thirsty battery a dead one.

Fill it with distilled water once a week—as often as you take a hydrometer test.

If you haven't pure water, or don't want the trouble of filling your battery yourself—we'll do it for you.

Willard Service is good for any battery—whether it gives it a thorough overhauling, or merely fills and tests it. And if your battery needs repairs it provides a rental battery for your use whatever the make or model of your car.

Drop in next time you're down this way—and if you haven't one already—get a Willard Service Card that entitles you to free semi-

NEW CURBS ON TRADING MAKE MARKET NERVOUS

Corn Closes Unsettled at 1/2 to 2 3/4 Cents Net Advance After Breaking All High Price Records for the Season

Chicago, July 11.—Newly instituted war emergency curbs on trading at Kansas City and St. Louis, together with a prospective additional check on transactions here, brought about much nervousness today in the corn market. After breaking all high price records for the season quotations closed unsettled at 1/2 to 2 3/4 net advance, with Sept. 1917 to 1.59 1/2 and Dec. 1917 to 1.21 1/2. Wheat finished 1/2 off to a like advance at $2.03 July and $1.97 Sept. Oats gained 3/4 to 2 1/2 and provisions were unchanged to 1/2 lower. Rapid changes in sentiment formed on the part of shorts carried prices sharply up, and then a break ensuing owing to heavy selling for houses. The market was generally associated with word that a meeting of Chicago board of trade had been called and that action of the Kansas City and St. Louis exchanges cutting off all new buying of September options seemed likely to be duplicated here. Rumors in the Oklahoma attracted notice, but failed to offset reports that irreparable damage had been done to the crop by a drought area extended northward to the Dakotas. A heavy wave of buying within narrow limits. Harvesting of winter wheat was said to be making favorable progress and there were also reports of improvement in the general condition of the spring crop. In the oats crowd the chief influence was the fact that numerous fluctuations in the corn market averaged higher. Bearish field reports regarding oats were thus more than counterbalanced. Provisions received only meager support. Some of the best recent buyers were conspicuous in the selling. Cash prices were said to be disappointing as to volume.

TO LIMIT USE OF MILK
London, July.—A correspondent of the "Express," with a desire to restrict the consumption of milk and sugar urges tea drinkers to go without these commodities in their tea. He says that in 1915, 315,000,000 pounds of tea of consumed. To make this palatable would need 180,000 gallons of sugar and 541,000,000 gallons of milk which would cost at retail prices 124,000,000 pounds sterling.

STOCKS MAKE NOMINAL RECESSIONS IN LAST HOUR

Additional Gains of One to Six Points Seem to Originate Mainly from Technical Considerations.

New York, July 11.—Additional gains of 1 to 6 points made in the last hour of today's market dealings with nominal recessions in the last hour on realizing, seemed to originate mainly from technical considerations. Traders proceeded on the theory that the market had arrived at an oversold condition and bought freely for both accounts, deriving some encouragement from a moderate revival of public interest. There was a well-defined opinion that the conferences now in progress at Washington between important industrial interests and the government would result in price adjustments satisfactory to the contracting parties. Financial statements submitted by several of the steel and equipment concerns, notably the Lackawanna Steel Company and forecasts of the United States Steel earnings for the second quarter also induced support of those issues. United States Steel was more responsive to this inquiry than at any recent period making an extreme gain of almost 2 points at 12 1/2, half of which was forfeited at the end. Bethlehem, Lackawanna, Republic Iron, Colorado Fuel, East Iron Pipe, Harbison and Rock Foundry, the more prominent equipments, metals, sugars, oils, and tobacco rose 1 to 3 points with Central Leather, American Woolen and Fertilizer while motors registered extreme advances of 1 to 5 points with their subsidiaries. Shipments were consistently strong at gains of 1/2 to 3/4 for marines, five for United Fruit and 5/8 for Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies. Industrial Alcohol and Stalling Preferred marked the stock of their special class, gaining 1 to 2 points and utilities were represented by Philadelphia and Reading, New York Central and Pacific averaging advances of 1 to 1 1/2 points, Wisconsin Central rising 3/4. Total sales amounted to 700,000 shares.

SAYS $400 WASTED IN FUTILE EFFORT

Culp Tells How He Finally Gained Relief In Tanlac

"It's the truth when I say that three bottles of Tanlac have done me more real good than the entire $400 I previously spent trying to get relief," R. H. Culp, one of the most prominent and best known farmers in this vicinity, residing at Woodson, Ill., near here, told the Tanlac Man on June 23. Mr. Culp has hosts of friends in Morgan county who will be glad to learn of his remarkable improvement.

"Heart trouble and nervousness had been my twin complaints for the past year," Mr. Culp continued. "Although I tried practically every means I was unable to gain any relief. I'd become so nervous at night I would have to get up and just walk the floor. My heart was weak and annoyed me greatly."

"A friend of mine in Galesburg had been benefited by Tanlac and he advised me to try the new medicine. Well sir, my heart scarcely bothers me at all any more. And sleep—well, my nerves have been placed in such good condition I rest splendidly from bedtime until day-break. I get up in the mornings feeling refreshed and rested, too. Tanlac is the best medicine I've ever taken and I'm only too glad to let others know of my relief."

Tanlac is now being introduced in Jacksonville at the Coover-Shreve Drug Co., East Side store, where a special Tanlac representative is explaining the new medicine to the public daily. Tanlac also may be obtained at the West Side store of the Coover-Shreve Co. It is sold in Waverly at the Wyle Drug Co.; in New Berlin at the New Berlin Drug Co.; in Ashland at H. O. Brownback's; in Versailles at A. G. Bates; in Chapin at F. P. McKinney's; in Roodhouse at W. D. Berry's; in White Hall at the City Drug store; in Bluffs at F. T. Curtis'; and in Pittsfield at J. H. Barber & Co.; in Lodi at L. N. VanDeren's; in Divernon at E. G. Haug's; in Manchester at C. D. Chapman's and in Winchester at the City drug store.—Adv.

OUTFITTING OF ARMY IS STUPENDOUS TASK

Buying of Equipment is in Charge of Quartermaster's Corps of the Army
—Manufacturers of Country Show Patriotism.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—How would you like to be at the head of a family of a million members and have to provide them with food, clothing and other necessities? In the language of the street, you doubtless would find it "some" job to do the shopping, even if provided with an unlimited purse.

Yet this is one of the prodigious tasks that the war has imposed upon Uncle Sam—the task of outfitting hundreds of thousands of men as they leave for battlefields abroad and at the same time accumulating a store of clothing with other necessities with which to equip the half million men who will comprise the first National Army.

The shopping is being done thru the Quartermaster's Corps of the army. A force of experienced buyers, greatly enlarged to meet the conditions, is working day and night, receiving bids, examining samples, drawing up specifications and sending out orders. Every purchase is made strictly on merit and the greatest precautions are taken to see that the goods supplied to the soldiers are of the very best quality.

Officers are far-sighted. The average civilian—and the average army officer for that matter—does not realize the immensity of the task. Some idea may be had, however, from the mere statement that Uncle Sam will go down into his pocket to the tune of $46,500,000 to equip the half-million men who will make up the first National Army. A force of a million men, of course, will require twice that sum. The outlay is reckoned at $93 for each man. The amount would be a great deal more except for the far-sightedness of officers and the patriotism of manufacturers. The $93 per man is for uniforms, underwear, stockings, tentage, etc., but does not include the rifle and ammunition that each man must have.

Some of the principal items on the shopping list may be enumerated as follows, the actual figures being supplied by the War Department records:

2,500,000 hats to cover the heads of the soldier boys.
2,600,000 cots for camps, barracks and cantonments.
5,380,000 blankets to keep the khaki-clad boys warm.
4,700,000 pairs of russet shoes and 2,500,000 pairs of field shoes.

54,000,000 yards of duck with which to make tents.
9,000,000 yards of cloth for shirts and underwear.

45,000,000 yards of cotton cloth for coats and trousers.
14,000,000 yards of woolen cloth for suitings.
10,000,000 yards of woolen cloth for overcoats.
16,000,000 pairs of cotton and woolen stockings.

Offer Plants to Government.

A question that naturally arises is how all this material can be manufactured and delivered in the short time before the men assemble at the cantonments. The answer lies in the fact that there is hardly a concern in the United States which manufactures articles used by the army that is without a Government contract. Every cotton and woolen concern in New England, and in the South and all other sections as well, has a Government contract or can have one for the asking. All this has been done without publicity.

Army officers declare that it would be impossible to find in any land manufacturers more patriotic than those in the United States. With the severing of diplomatic relations and with war inevitable, thousands of manufacturers offered the services of their plants to the Government. The offers have been coming in ever since. Many have agreed to turn out goods at a little more than cost. A large number have offered to give their product to the Government.

And so with comparatively few exceptions, the Quartermaster's Corps and the manufacturers of the nation are working hand in hand. In this manner it is confidently expected that the hundreds of thousands of men comprising the great National army will be equipped on time and at a reasonable cost. The task is an enormous one, but not the slightest doubt is felt that in this as in other matters Uncle Sam will prove himself equal to the occasion.

FACTS ABOUT CAMP LIFE TOLD BY WOODSON 'BOY

George A. Harney Writes Interesting Letter From Paris Island, S. C.—
Sacred Concert at Christian church Sunday—Other News Items.

Woodson, Ill., July 11.—The following letter has been received by Anderson Bros. here from George A. Harney, now in camp at Paris Island, S. C.:

Dear Sirs:
Well, I'll try and write a line or two. I would have written before, but I haven't had much time. My company is on guard tonight, but I was lucky enough not to get on it this time. They sure believe in working a fellow here. We get up about five o'clock and drill until about seven, then we have breakfast, then drill until ten-thirty. We have dinner at eleven-thirty and wash our clothes then. We eat supper at four-thirty and then drill for two hours. The other day my company was on what they call police duty. We took a wagon and pulled it over to the main barracks for a load of lumber. It's only about fourteen miles there and back in sand about six inches deep. They said in that Marine book that the Marines could do anything about right. If that's police duty, I'd hate to be a policeman. There are some things I like about this life and some that I don't like so well. There are twenty companies in this camp now, with seventy men to a company. They line three cook shacks here. Every man has his plate, cup, knife, fork and spoon. We march past a table, and they dish your stuff out and then you sit down on the ground to eat it. It's not what some think it is, but I guess we'll all live thru it some way. It's sure a whole lot different than what most of us have been used to at home. The camp is out on an island. They don't allow any recruits to leave here until they send them away for good. I think I'll be here a month or more yet. Well, it's getting so dark that I can't see any longer.

Private George A. Harney.

Selection—Orchestra.
Reading—Miss Lucile Henry.
"America"—Audience.
"Music in the Church Service"—Pastors Latham and Oldham.
Benediction.

On Sunday morning, July 15, Rev. W. H. Oldham will deliver a sermon in the Christian church especially for the children. All parents are requested to see that the children attend the service.

Miss Lena Adams has gone to the Hall to visit relatives.
The Anderson Bros. spent Sunday with friends in Waverly.

Mrs. B. R. Bishop of Prentice visited home folks Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson of Jacksonville and Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Thompson and son of Prentice were callers here Wednesday last week. They made the trip in the former's Jeffery car.

Mrs. Annie Ferguson and daughters, Ruth and Irene, and Mr. and Mrs. Dorris Floreth, all of Jacksonville were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Henry.

Mrs. George E. Staples went to Mexico, Mo., Saturday to spend a few days with her daughter, Mrs. C. F. Kehl and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Schofield from near Lynville attended the Concert here Sunday evening.

WOMEN OBJECT TO DOING ALL THE SAVING

A suggestion was recently made by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, chairman of the woman's committee of the Council of National Defense who says there is a growing sentiment among women of the country against being sold about saving. If women of the country are going to eat Indian corn to give the soldiers bread, let the men sacrifice some of their cigars to give the soldiers a smoke, she says. Women, she declares, are more economical than men. The soldiers have written that they want tobacco, and she suggests that the men economize on tobacco and give the boys in the trenches a smoke if it is going to make them happier and more comfortable. If each man would put aside one cigar a day, the soldiers could have a great time smoking. The women will economize, they are eager to, they want to do everything in their power to help. They know, too, that barley is just as good in soup as in beer, she says.

On Mrs. L. D. Harvey, of Menominee, Wis., president of the State Federation of Women's clubs, comes the same point. Women are glad to economize, she says, but it is time that men did their share, and cut down on their smoking and drinking. It sounds reasonable enough to a mere woman. Wonder how it will sound to the men.

Dr. and Mrs. Louis J. Bechtold, Dr. Edward Bechtold and Dr. August Bechtold of Belleville were visitors in the city Wednesday.

RUSH CURBING WORK

Employees of the Standard Paving company are at work building the curb and gutter on North Prairie street. It is a well organized crew and the work is proceeding with a gratifying rapidity. The company has plenty of material on the ground and an adequate force and so, with favorable weather, expects to push this work along in a satisfactory way. When the Prairie street curbing has been finished the men will be taken to Mound avenue. Other workers will come to attend to the excavating and laying of the pavement.

Miss Mattie Long of Arenzville was a visitor in Jacksonville yesterday.

Use Polar Auto OILS

Perfect Lubrication

Without perfect lubrication your machine will not deliver highest efficiency.

Perfect lubrication is not a matter of opinion, but is the product of scientific study. In the first place the raw material governs the by-products. POLAR OILS are taken from Pennsylvania crude, which is the highest grade in the world. It is a fact beyond any dispute that oils from this crude produce an oil very superior to those taken from any other crude oils, because of their freedom from asphalt. We are offering you in POLAR OILS and GREASES, highest efficiency, perfectly uniform oils full of service.

POLAR AUTO OILS are made on honor and sold to you that way, not simply to sell, but for you to use from time to time because they are right, and will not break at high temperatures, lubricate thoroughly and will not congeal in the coldest weather.

Perfect lubrication without formation of carbon is absolutely guaranteed.

You will find that by their use your lubricating problems will be solved safe and sure. It will pay you to use POLAR OILS.

We absolutely guarantee these oils to give satisfaction or we refund your money.

WHY DON'T YOU ?

Our Special House Wiring Campaign Soon Will Be a Thing of the Past---HAVE YOU ACTED?

Never in the past were you able to have your house wired at such low figures as we are now quoting---fully 25% LOWER than ever before.

Our present house wiring campaign soon will be a thing of the past; those not placing orders now will lose a genuine opportunity to secure a valuable improvement at a big saving. A little investigation will prove this fact to you.

Have you asked for an estimate? Do so at once. It entails no obligations.

Have you asked how much you will have to pay per month? Have you asked how Electric Light compares in cost, with other light?

Another thing—if you have property that you are renting, and it's not wired, it will pay you to investigate to find out how much better tenants you can secure for a really modern place, and, therefore, better return for your investment.

It really is astonishing to many how little it costs to have a house wired; how little "tearing up" and "muss" there is, and how small monthly payments are accepted. Phone us (either phone 580) and ask us to give you estimates. We will send an Illuminating Engineer to your property at once, make careful estimate, and report promptly.
